Course Overview

This workshop introduces "MAGNUS OVEA" as a strategic framework tailored for first responders to thrive in high-pressure and volatile environments. Drawing from Colonel Boyd's OODA Loop, Albert Bandura's Theory of Social Cognition, tested and validated with the US Joint Special Operations Command, the workshop introduces Dr. Mitch Javidis MAGNUS OVEA, a General Theory of Human Performance. It equips participants with a comprehensive arsenal of Situational, Cognitive, and Emotional dominance tools. These tools are designed to neurobiologically activate peak performance and deep emotional intelligence, fostering resilience and wellness essential for success in challenging operations. This course is necessary for all personnel across law enforcement, including SWAT, special operations, corrections, and patrol, catering to individuals at every rank. It leads attendees on a Great to Magnus journey to inspire, educate, impact, and transcend, personally and professionally.
